

Library News

Drexel University Libraries

Library News

Vol. 7, No. 1 April, 2006

What's new?

Hagerty Library to Extend Hours in Spring Term Pilot Project

In response to student requests, Hagerty Library will experiment with longer hours during the spring term. Beginning April 3, Hagerty will open at 7:30 am Monday through Friday, and remain open until 2:00 am Sunday through Thursday. Hagerty will close at 10 pm on Friday and Saturday. More...

New Libraries Website Search Function -- We've Been Google-ized!

When you use the new search function on the Drexel Libraries website, you'll notice a familiar "look and feel" to the results. With the help of Drexel's Information Resources & Technology (IRT) group, we have replaced our previous site-search function with a Google Search service. More..

E-ZBorrow Helps Provide the Books You Need!

You know exactly what book you need. You search the Drexel University Libraries catalog, and you find out that the book is not available at Drexel. Has this ever happened to you? E-ZBorrow is the remedy for your library book blues! E-ZBorrow lets Drexel students, faculty, and staff borrow books from over 50 member libraries of the Pennsylvania Academic Library Consortium (PALCI). More...

Recent Book Donations Expand Hagerty's Holdings

Hagerty Library has recently received three large donations of books which have greatly expanded our collection's holdings. We gratefully acknowledge receipt of the Shostak Collection, from Arthur B. Shostak and Lynn Seng; the Wagner Collection, in memory of Brian L. Wagner; and the Cohen Collection, in memory of Madeline L. Cohen. Thank you! More...

Drexel University Libraries to Hold Scholarly Communication Symposium

Drexel University Libraries, in the third year of exploring the world of scholarly communication, will host their first symposium on the topic, scheduled for Friday, April 28, 2006 from 8:30 AM – 1:00 PM. Three speakers will address issues in scholarly communication from the sciences and humanities perspectives. More...

Staff News

Jay Bhatt, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Engineering, will be recognized with an Outstanding Paper award for his article which appeared in Library Hi-Tech News. In addition, Jay Bhatt and Peggy Dominy, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Science and Math, participated in a special session of the Drexel RSS Club on "Peer Review in the Google Age." Steven Bogel and Anita Chiodo have rejoined the Hagerty staff as part-time evening reference librarians. Cindy Humphries is the new Clerk in Hagerty's Access Services Department. Ann Keith Kennedy, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Media Arts and Design, has been elected Vice-President/President-Elect of the Delaware Valley Chapter of the Art Libraries Society of North America (ARLIS/NA). Stephanie Riley is the new Evening Supervisor in Hagerty's Access Services Department. More...

E-Resources News and Reviews

New Electronic Resources Available through Drexel Libraries!

DXplain provides comprehensive descriptions and references for over 2,200 different diseases. Factiva is a global news and business information service that combines the content sets of Dow Jones Interactive and Reuters Business Briefing. Mergent BondViewer is a financial industry database for US taxable and municipal fixed income and evaluation data. Mergent Online is an Internet-based suite of information resources that enables in-depth business and financial research. Film Literature Index annually indexes 150 film and television periodicals from 30 countries cover-to-cover. Naxos Music Library is a comprehensive collection of classical music available online, including the complete Naxos and Marco Polo catalogs of over 130,000 tracks. Variety.com offers the full text of every current article in Daily Variety and Variety (not including some of the special reports). iPoll is an up-to-date source for US nationwide public opinion polls. Urban Studies & Planning from CSA includes the full text of 12 journals published by SAGE and participating societies, covering such subjects as anthropology, political science, economics, education, environmental science, and more. National Geographic Society Publications Index includes broad subject indexing to magazines, books, films and videos, educational products, map products, interactive features, and newsletters produced by the Society. Library, Information Science & Technology Abstracts (LISTA) from EBSCO indexes more than 600 periodicals, plus books, research reports and proceedings dealing with library and information science. Synthesis: The Digital Library of Engineering and Computer Science provides "Lectures," 50- to 100-page self-contained electronic documents that synthesize a research or development topic authored by prominent contributors to the field. ILI Standards Infobase is a bibliographic standards database that covers over 600,000 worldwide standards. More...

What's new?

Health Sciences News: New & Expanded Subject Guides and "Live" Online Instruction

The Health Sciences Libraries recently created a new subject guide in radiology as well as expanding the scope of the Behavioral and Addictions Counseling Guide. Additionally, in collaboration with Drexel's College of Nursing, Health Sciences librarians participated in an innovative online teaching experience. Librarians demonstrated the use of CINAHL (Cumulative Index to Nursing and Allied Health) to a group of distance learning students via CENTRA software. More..

New College of Law Construction Impact on Hagerty Library

The construction for the building that will be the initial home of Drexel's new College of Law continues under a tight schedule. Disruptions to service at Hagerty Library have thus far been minimal, with the noise from installing the below-grade supports generally less intrusive than anticipated. More...

Comments and Suggestions | News Index
Drexel University Libraries | Drexel University

Library News is published quarterly on the web by Drexel University Libraries.

Editors:

Alison Lewis, Hagerty Library

Lenore Hardy, Health Sciences Libraries

Library News

Drexel University Libraries

Library News

Vol. 7, No. 1 April, 2006

Hagerty Library to Extend Hours in Spring Term Pilot Project

In response to student requests, Hagerty Library will experiment with longer hours during the spring term. Beginning April 3, Hagerty will open at 7:30 am Monday through Friday, and remain open until 2:00 am Sunday through Thursday. Hagerty will close at 10 pm on Friday and Saturday.

Hours were also lengthened during the recent term break, with weekday hours from 7:30 am to 9:00 pm and weekend hours from 11:00 am to 8:00 pm.

At the end of the pilot period, the library will evaluate the program's success and decide whether to institute longer hours during the fall, winter, and spring terms of the 2006-2007 academic year.

The Library welcomes comments and suggestions about its hours, services, and resources. For more information about library hours and access policies, contact Ken Garson, Head of Access Services, at 215.895.2774 or garsonkw@drexel.edu.

Drexel LibrariesCommentsFront PageNews IndexDrexel University

Library News

Drexel University Libraries

Library News

Vol. 7, No. 1 April, 2006

New Libraries Website Search Function -- We've Been Google-ized!

The next time you search the Drexel Libraries' website <http://www.library.drexel.edu/resources/searchlibs/default.html>, you'll notice a familiar "look and feel" to the results. With the help of Drexel's Information Resources & Technology (IRT) group, we have replaced our previous site-search function with a Google Search service.

The linked "Search Tips" page describes all of the standard Google advanced search options, including the ability to search for specific types of files such as .pdf's. A very useful feature for the "spelling impaired" is the built-in spell checker; because the spell checker is context-sensitive, it will even work with acronyms – suggesting "CINAHL" as the correct spelling for "CINHAL", and of course, "library" for "libary"!

We hope that you'll find the new Google-ized search a convenient, fast means for finding your way through the Drexel Libraries' website.

For more information about the Hagerty Libraries' website or the new Google search function, contact Kathleen Turner, Web/Education Librarian, at 215.895.6783 or khturner@drexel.edu.

Drexel Libraries

Comments

Front Page

News Index

Drexel University

Library News

Drexel University Libraries

Library News

Vol. 7, No. 1 April, 2006

E-ZBorrow Helps Provide the Books You Need!

You know exactly what book you need. You search the Drexel University Libraries' catalog and discover that the book is not available at Drexel. Has this ever happened to you? E-ZBorrow is the remedy for your library book blues!

E-ZBorrow allows Drexel students, faculty, and staff to borrow books from over 50 member libraries of the Pennsylvania Academic Library Consortium (PALCI). Because it's an automated process, it's much faster than standard interlibrary loan – most books arrive in 3-5 business days.

You can search the E-ZBorrow catalog for the book you need. Then click to request it. You will get an e-mail when the book is available for pick up at the Drexel library you specify. The loan period is 4 weeks, with one renewal if needed.

E-ZBorrow Tips

- E-ZBorrow is only for books. If you need journal articles, conference proceedings, or DVDs, fill out a traditional Interlibrary Loan form.

- E-ZBorrow works best when you are looking for a specific book.

- The lending libraries are searched in groups. If the first group doesn't have the book you need, use the pull-down menu on the search page to try a different library group.

- If you are a distance learner, make sure to specify your distance learner status and your mailing address in the "Notes for Librarian to Review" section of the request page.

For more information about E-ZBorrow, contact Ken Garson, Head of Access Services, at 215.895.2774 or garsonkw@drexel.edu.

Drexel Libraries
Comments
Front Page
News Index
Drexel University

Library News

Drexel University Libraries

Library News

Vol. 7, No. 1 April, 2006

Recent Book Donations Expand Hagerty's Holdings

Shostak Collection

Gift of Arthur B. Shostak and Lynn Seng

This past summer, Hagerty Library was the recipient of a large donation of books from Dr. Arthur B. Shostak, emeritus professor of Culture and Communication, and his wife Lynn Seng. The collection, consisting of over 350 books, reflects Dr. Shostak's wide-ranging research and personal interests covering subject areas such as labor relations, race and ethnic relations, futurism, societal impacts of technology, religion, and philosophy. The library accepted this gift with pleasure as it adds great depth to our collections in a wide range of subjects.

Wagner Collection

In Memory of Brian L. Wagner

This fall, Hagerty Library received a generous donation from the estate of Brian L. Wagner. Professor Wagner, former Associate Professor and Interim Head of Visual Studies in the Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts and Design, passed away in July. The collection's broad subject matter illustrates Professor Wagner's wide range of interests and exceptional scholarship. It is especially notable for its titles in art, art history, and anthropology, particularly Native American studies.

Cohen Collection

In Memory of Madeline L. Cohen

Hagerty Library was also the recipient of a significant collection of books from the estate of Madeline L. Cohen. Dr. Cohen was a professor of Art History at the Community College of Philadelphia for 26 years. She received her Doctorate in Art History from the University of Pennsylvania. This collection is notable in its focus on Philadelphia, and includes many significant texts in the field of urban design and urban studies.

Drexel University Libraries is pleased to accept these three collections, which will greatly expand our current holdings. For further information about making a donation of books or other library materials to Drexel University Libraries, please see our gifts policy and contact Tracy Hull, Head of Information Services in Hagerty at 215.895.2751 or tlhull@drexel.edu or Lenore Hardy, Director of the Health Sciences Libraries, at 215.762.7022 or Hardy@drexel.edu.

Drexel LibrariesCommentsFront PageNews IndexDrexel University

Library News

Drexel University Libraries

Library News

Vol. 7, No. 1 April, 2006

Drexel University Libraries to Hold Scholarly Communication Symposium

Drexel University Libraries, in the third year of exploring the world of scholarly communication, will host their first symposium on the topic, scheduled for Friday, April 28, 2006 from 8:30 AM – 1:00 PM. Three speakers will address issues in scholarly communication from the sciences and humanities perspectives: How has the digital age transformed the ways scholars exchange ideas? How will this impact our intellectual growth in the future? What does this mean to the academic careers of faculty and students?

Presenters:

- Dr. Blaise Cronin

Rudy Professor of Information Science at Indiana University;
Dean of the School of Library and Information Science; Visiting Professor, School of Computing, Napier University, Edinburgh, Scotland; Editor of the Annual Review of Information Science and Technology

- Jordan Ballor

Associate Editor of the Journal of Markets & Morality and Ph.D. candidate in Historical Theology at Calvin Theological Seminary

- Rosalind Reid

Editor of American Scientist, the magazine of Sigma Xi, The Scientific Research Society

All are welcome. Registration is free, but required by April 12th. For more information and to register, visit: <http://www.library.drexel.edu/services/symposium2006.html>.

Drexel LibrariesCommentsFront PageNews IndexDrexel University

Library News

Drexel University Libraries

Library News

Vol. 7, No. 1 April, 2006

Staff News

Jay Bhatt, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Engineering, will be recognized for his paper, Blogging as a Tool: Innovative Approaches to Information Access, which appeared in Library Hi-Tech News, 22(9), p. 28-32, 2005. This paper will receive one of the Outstanding Paper awards at the Emerald Literati Network Awards for Excellence 2006 in May.

Jay Bhatt, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Engineering, and Peggy Dominy, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Science and Math, participated in a special session of the Drexel RSS Club on Peer Review in the Google Age. Their presentation, which addresses the question "Is technology changing the way science is done and evaluated?" can be viewed via podcast, vodcast (streaming video on demand), or PowerPoint at <http://drexel-coas-elearning.blogspot.com/2006/02/peer-review-in-google-age-meeting.html>.

Steven Bogel and Anita Chiodo have rejoined the Hagerty staff as part-time evening reference librarians. Steve, formerly Evening Supervisor in Hagerty's Access Services Department, now has a full-time job with the Pennsylvania Hospital Library. Anita had previously worked as a Clerk for Hagerty's Information Services Department when she was a graduate student and now manages Hahnemann Library's Access Services Department as her day job. They join Suzanne Bernsten in providing reference service at Hagerty from 6pm to 10pm, Sunday through Thursday.

Cindy Humphries has joined the staff of Hagerty Library as the new Clerk in the Access Services Department, responsible for maintaining the Hagerty book stacks among other duties. While taking some courses at Drexel's College of Information Science and Technology to finish a Master's degree in Drexel's Publication Management program, she decided to take more courses to get her M.S. in Information Science.

Ann Keith Kennedy, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Media Arts and Design, has been elected Vice-President/President-Elect of the Delaware Valley Chapter of the Art Libraries Society of North America (ARLIS/NA). ARLIS/NA is a professional society for librarians, curators, and other professionals devoted to fostering excellence in art librarianship and visual resources curatorship.

Stephanie Riley is the new Evening Supervisor in Hagerty's Access Services Department. Stephanie is currently enrolled in the Master's program at Drexel's College of Information Science and Technology. She formerly worked as the assistant to the Head of Architecture at Drexel's College of Media Arts and Design.

New Databases at Drexel Libraries

Created by the Laboratory of Computer Science, Department of Medicine at Massachusetts General Hospital, "DXplain provides comprehensive descriptions and references for over 2,200 different diseases, emphasizing the signs and symptoms that occur in each disease, the etiology, the pathology, and the prognosis." DXplain can also list a differential diagnosis for any of approximately 4900 clinical findings. In case analysis mode the software uses an interactive format to collect clinical information and produce a ranked list of diagnoses which could explain some or all of the clinical manifestations entered. DXplain can provide justification for each disease listed by displaying which of the case findings support a disease, can suggest what further clinical information would be useful to collect to support the presence of a specific disease and can list what clinical manifestations, if any, would make a specific disease less likely.

If you have any questions or comments about this resource, please contact Lenore Hardy, Director of Health Sciences Libraries, at 215.762.7022 or Hardy@drexel.edu.

Factiva is a global news and business information service that combines the content sets of Dow Jones Interactive and Reuters Business Briefing. It includes the Wall Street Journal, the Financial Times, Dow Jones and Reuters newswires and the Associated Press, as well as Reuters Fundamentals, D&B, and Bureau van Dijk company profiles. It provides access to more than 9,000 sources from 152 countries in 22 languages, including more than 120 continuously updated newswires. Additionally, more than 900 sources are available on or before the date of publication.

If you have any questions or comments about this resource, please contact Emily Missner Devaney, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Business, at 215.895.6164 or edm25@drexel.edu

MERGENTBondViewer Mergent BondViewer is a financial industry database for US taxable and municipal fixed income and evaluation data. It provides access to a wide range of bond data including both issuer and bond level terms and condition data, US taxable bonds, municipal bonds and retail notes.

If you have any questions or comments about this resource, please contact Emily Missner Devaney, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Business, at 215.895.6164 or edm25@drexel.edu.

Mergent Online is an Internet-based suite of information resources that enables in-depth business and financial research. The subscription offers access to US and international company data, archives, annual reports, earnings estimates and equity pricing, and more.

If you have any questions or comments about this resource, please contact Emily Missner Devaney, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Business, at 215.895.6164 or edm25@drexel.edu.

Film Literature Index annually indexes 150 film and television periodicals from 30 countries cover-to-cover and 200 other periodicals selectively for articles on film and television. The periodicals range from the scholarly and critical to the popular. The Film Literature Index comprises a comprehensive indexing system that includes more than 2,000 subject headings for detailed analysis of articles and reviews.

If you have any questions or comments about this resource, please contact Ann Keith Kennedy, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Media Arts and Design, at 215.895.2772 or akk25@drexel.edu.

Naxos Music Library is a comprehensive collection of classical music available online. It includes the complete Naxos and Marco Polo catalogs of over 130,000 tracks, including classical music, jazz, world, folk and Chinese music. While listening, you can read notes on the works being played as well as biographical information on composers or artists in Naxos's extensive database. All this is accessible from computers in the libraries, or from your home or office.

If you have any questions or comments about this resource, please contact Ann Keith Kennedy, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Media Arts and Design, at 215.895.2772 or akk25@drexel.edu.

Variety.com offers the full text of every current article in Daily Variety and Variety (not including some of the special reports). It also offers research tools like a searchable credits database, a global showbiz events calendar, interactive box office charts, classifieds, video clips, extended event photo coverage and more. Every day, stories appear on Variety.com before the paper hits the street.

If you have any questions or comments about this resource, please contact Ann Keith Kennedy, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Media Arts and Design, at 215.895.2772 or akk25@drexel.edu.

iPoll is an up-to-date source for US nationwide public opinion polls. It is a full-text retrieval system organized at the question-level, and includes nearly a half million questions asked on national public opinion surveys since 1935. The data is updated daily. iPoll includes data survey results from academic, commercial and media survey organizations such as the Gallup Organization, Harris Interactive, and Pew Research Associates. The data come from all the surveys in the Roper Center archive that have US national adult samples or samples of registered voters, women, African Americans, or any other population that constitutes a large segment of the national adult population. iPoll does not include state samples or foreign samples. Users must fill out a one-time registration and agree to the terms of use before accessing this resource.

If you have any questions or comments about this resource, please contact Alison Lewis, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Humanities and Social Sciences, at 215.895.2765 or alewis@drexel.edu.

Urban Studies & Planning: A SAGE Full-Text Collection from CSA includes the full text of 12 journals published by SAGE and participating societies, some journals going back 37 years, and encompasses over 2,500 articles. It covers such subjects as anthropology, economics, education, environmental science, policy analysis, political science, sociology, urban and regional planning, and more.

If you have any questions or comments about this resource, please contact Alison Lewis, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Humanities and Social Sciences, at 215.895.2765 or alewis@drexel.edu.

National Geographic Society Publications Index includes broad subject indexing to magazines, books, films and videos, educational products, map products, interactive features, and newsletters produced by the Society. Magazines indexed include National Geographic, National Geographic Traveler, National Geographic Society Research & Exploration, National Geographic World and National Geographic Adventure.

If you have any questions or comments about this resource, please contact Alison Lewis, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Humanities and Social Sciences, at 215.895.2765 or alewis@drexel.edu or Peggy Dominy, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Math and Science, at 215.895.2754 or dominyf@drexel.edu.

Library, Information Science & Technology Abstracts \(LISTA\) from Ebsco indexes more than 600 periodicals, books, research reports and proceedings. Subject coverage includes librarianship, classification, cataloging, bibliometrics, online information retrieval, and information management. Coverage in the database extends back as far as the mid-1960s.

If you have any questions or comments about this resource, please contact Tim Siftar, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Information Science and Education, at 215.895.2762 or siftar@drexel.edu Synthesis: The Digital Library of Engineering and Computer Science provides "Lectures," 50- to 100-page self-contained electronic documents that synthesize a research or development topic authored by prominent contributors to the field. The library and its lectures are organized into a hierarchical structure of disciplines and series, each managed by a consulting editor. SYNTHESIS launched in October 2005 with an initial selection of series in engineering and computer science. It is a product of Morgan & Claypool Publishers.

If you have any questions or comments about this resource, please contact Jay Bhatt, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Engineering, at 215.895.1873 or bhattij@drexel.edu.

ILI Standards Infobase is a bibliographic standards database that covers over 600,000 worldwide standards. Information provided includes the number, title, version, summary, international equivalents, table of contents and more. Also included are the relevant European Union "New Approach" Directives listing the standards required to attain the CE (European Conformity) Mark. Over 250 major standards issuing authorities are covered, from the US, Europe, the international bodies ISO (International Organization for Standardization) and IEC (International Electrotechnical Commission), to Japan and Australia. For a complete listing of standards covered in the infobase go to <http://www.ili-info.com/StdtsCovered.php>.

The ILI Standards Infobase is only available after discussion and consultation with Jay Bhatt, Hagerty's Information Services Librarian for Engineering. To arrange a consultation for accessing standards, please contact Jay Bhatt at 215.895.1873 or bhattij@drexel.edu.

Library News

Drexel University Libraries

Library News

Vol. 7, No. 1 April, 2006

News from the Health Sciences Libraries

New and Expanded Subject Guides

The Health Sciences Libraries recently created a new subject guide in radiology: <http://www.library.drexel.edu/resources/guides/radiology.html> as well as expanding the scope of the Behavioral and Addictions Counseling Guide: <http://www.library.drexel.edu/resources/guides/addiction.html>

Both guides suggest databases for literature searching, links to electronic journals and texts, and a set of core and recommended highly relevant "best-of-the-web" resources, such as professional associations, societies, and institutes, practice guidelines, and free publications. Be sure to look at the complete Health Sciences Subject Guide list at: <http://www.library.drexel.edu/resources/guides/subjectguides.html#healthsciences>

Library "Live" Online Instruction

The Health Sciences Libraries and Drexel's College of Nursing collaborated recently in an online teaching experience. Librarians demonstrated the use of CINAHL (Cumulative Index to Nursing and Allied Health) to a group of distance learning students via CENTRA software. CENTRA simulates a classroom experience even when participants are spread out from Alaska to Florida. Students hear the instructor's voice while viewing lecture notes, PowerPoint slides, or webcasts. They participate in the virtual classroom via virtual chat, texting, and voice, too, if they have a microphone. This session was archived so students who weren't present at the demonstration may watch it at a later time.

If you're interested in learning more about CENTRA or if you'd like to schedule an instruction session, either online or in a traditional classroom setting, please contact Gary M. Childs, Education Librarian for Health Sciences, at 215.762.3696 or gc24@drexel.edu.

Drexel Libraries
Comments
Front Page
News Index
Drexel University

Library News

Drexel University Libraries

Library News

Vol. 7, No. 1 April, 2006

New College of Law Construction Impact on Hagerty Library

The construction for the building that will be the initial home of Drexel's new College of Law continues under a tight schedule. Disruptions to service at Hagerty Library have thus far been minimal, with the noise from installing the below-grade supports generally less intrusive than anticipated.

The windows on the first floor adjacent to the construction have been boarded over temporarily with plywood, and eventually that will be replaced with a permanent covering. New lighting will be installed to offset the loss of daylight.

The next phase of construction will involve installation of a pipeline in the ceiling of Hagerty's lower level. This will necessitate construction of temporary safety barriers. Access will be maintained to the student locker area and the Archives. Seating capacity will be reduced during this construction, which is anticipated to last approximately six weeks. However, we are placing additional tables in the Current Periodicals Room on the first floor of the library to offset the temporary loss of reader space.

In addition, we are in the process of converting a number of rooms into group study rooms on the first, second and third floors. This will result in an increase of nine group study rooms.

If you have any questions or concerns about the effects of construction on services at Hagerty Library, please do not hesitate to contact the Library Director Jane Bryan at 895-2750 or jane.bryan@drexel.edu.

Drexel Libraries

Comments

Front Page

News Index

Drexel University